

Data protection officer

16.07.2018

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) mandates that an organization must appoint a data protection officer (DPO) under three conditions: it is a public authority, it engages in systematic monitoring of people, or it processes sensitive personal data on a large scale.

Proceeding will be in Estonian. More information <http://www.aki.ee/et/andmekaitsepetstiaalist> [1]
